

Tenure Track Assistant Professor Position

The Department of Counseling and Human Services in the School of Education at Syracuse University is seeking a collaborative and engaged colleague for our tenure track Assistant Professor position. The successful candidate will join a dynamic faculty who are committed to advancing our mission of preparing the next generation of professional counselors, supervisors, educators, and leaders who through commitment and humanistic engagement will have meaningful and sustained impact in their communities.

Candidates must evidence a sustainable trajectory of scholarship and potential for funded research. The position requires teaching at the master's and doctoral level, advisement and mentoring of graduate students, clinical supervision, publishing in peer refereed journals, service in professional roles, and leadership in department and school initiatives. Successful candidates will demonstrate resonance with departmental signatures: humanistic engagement; reflexive leadership; impactful and engaged scholarship; experiential and constructivist pedagogy; socially just advocacy and activism; wellness, prevention, and resiliency; and constructivist clinical supervision.

Applicants should have an earned doctoral degree in Counselor Education from a CACREP accredited program or be ABD with an expected degree completion date of August 15, 2017.

Other requirements include eligibility for New York licensure and/or certification, ability to conduct and direct quantitative and qualitative research, demonstrated ability to teach CACREP core content areas, ability to provide department leadership in coordination of clinical experiences, and capacity to engage in teaching, mentoring, and supervision of students across the Clinical Mental Health, School Counseling, and Student Affairs Counseling programs. We are especially interested in candidates who have the ability to teach in one or more of the following content areas: assessment and appraisal, human growth and development, psycho-diagnosis and psychopharmacology, substance abuse, and career development.

Salary will be commensurate with professional experience. The appointment begins August 21, 2017. Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Candidates must complete an on-line application at sujobopps.com attaching: a current curriculum vita; cover letter explaining your interest in the position and level of resonance with departmental signatures; integrated statement of teaching philosophy, research interests, and service and leadership (limit to 6 pages); recent course evaluations if available; unofficial graduate transcripts; and, three letters of recommendation. Official transcripts are required prior to appointment.

Review of applications begins November 15, 2016, and will continue until position is filled. Questions about the position should be sent by email to the Search Chair, Nicole Hill, at nrhill@syr.edu.

Syracuse University is an equal-opportunity, affirmative-action institution. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, sex, gender, national origin, citizenship, ethnicity, marital status, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression, veteran status, or any other status protected by applicable law to the extent prohibited by law. This nondiscrimination policy covers admissions, employment, and access to and treatment in University programs, services, and activities.

